The Wizard Reward

The benefit to you, our reader, is immediate. When you visit our own official website everyrace.com you will gain access to free Wizard formguide assessments, seven days a week, 52 weeks a year.

That's right. Free!

And it is not a cut down “give-away”. The first of our special rewards for you is the newly upgraded Wizard Quick Form report, free of charge.

Also you don't have to accept only the meeting we are prepared to give you. That is not the way we see our rewards program operating.

In fact, via everyrace.com you will be able to access every Wizard Quick Form report, every day, at no cost to you at all. It's free. It's the best way we know that we can say “Thanks for being a Wizard reader.”

The Wizard loyalty rewards program provides unique value and is totally relevant to your main interest... backing winners.

The value of this outstanding offer to you is quite easy to calculate. On average there are 30 gallop meetings covered each week in addition to the four normally covered in the weekend edition of the Wizard. The Wizard Quick Form report costs $2.20 per meeting, so this Wizard reward program is worth $66 to you each week... from week one. Annualised that is $3432.

How do you get started?

It's easy. Now you are at everyrace.com, register (if you haven't already done so) and then choose the Wizard, the the Wizard Rewards option.

Answer a simple question from the Wizard and there they are ... all of the current Wizard Quick Form reports ready for you to print directly from the screen or download to you computer. And that can be 9 or 10 reports on the busiest race days. And it's Free!

It's the Wizard Way

I wanted to find a way that made certain that you, our readers, knew you were appreciated. Words were not enough.

When you have experienced the benefits that will come your way via the Wizard rewards program I am confident that you will agree that the program more than fully meets my objective.
